

WOMEN'S MARINE LEADERSHIP: ON THE RISE

APRIL 8, 2021

AIMU supports the importance of gender equality and aims to highlight the important contribution of women all over the world to the marine insurance and maritime industries.

This panel discussion seeks to build on AIMU's 2019 "Women in Marine Insurance Leadership" event and the IMO World Maritime Day 2019 theme, "Empowering Women in the Maritime Community".

PANELISTS/BIOS

JANELLE GRIFFITH
Vice President,
Account Executive-
Logistics NE Marine
Unit
Lockton

Janelle Griffith is a Vice President and Logistics Account Executive in the Lockton Northeast Marine Unit. Janelle brings many years of experience in the insurance industry with an extensive background in risk management, claims, and brokerage in the cargo and logistics sectors. Prior to joining Lockton, Janelle was employed with one of the world's leading multi-national logistics companies, where she held the position of Director of Insurance Risk and Claims for the United States, Canada and Mexico. Prior to that, she held positions at Markel Insurance and Hapag-Lloyd, America. In addition to servicing clients, her primary responsibilities at Lockton include marketing and implementation of logistics insurance solutions for the growing logistics practice. She works closely with Producers, Account Executives and Client Executives to provide strategic advisement and support on new business opportunities in the cargo and logistics supply chain sector. Janelle holds a Juris Doctor and brings her blend of legal acumen, knowledge and expertise in cargo, logistics, and risk management as a tremendous value to Lockton and its clients.

ANGELA NOLAN

Angela Nolan, AMIM currently serves as Vice President – U.S. Marine at Canopus Insurance Services. After obtaining a bachelor's degree in actuarial science from the St. John's School of Risk Management & Insurance, Angela decided to take her analytical skills to the underwriting side and became XL Group's first marine underwriting trainee. She was an all-lines ocean marine underwriter with XL for over three years, before leaving

Vice President –
Underwriting
US Ocean Marine,
Canopus

to join the new start-up U.S. Marine operation for Canopus. Since her time there, Angela has helped her team build & maintain a profitable book of business from the ground up, solidifying Canopus' presence as a formidable marine player in the U.S. Market. Through various Canopus-sponsored initiatives, including a 3-month secondment in 2019, as well as the Harold Jackson Scholarship award in 2018, Angela is a frequent visitor at Lloyd's of London, having gained invaluable experience working on the ground-floor at the Canopus box. A member of both the AMIF Committee and the AIMU Education Committee, Angela is proud to be part of the larger marine insurance industry and values the life-long connections she's made thus far.

COURTNEY L. SCOTT
Senior Underwriter
The Hartford

Courtney L. Scott is a Senior Underwriter, based in NYC, with the Hartford Ocean Marine team for the past 2.5 years. Prior to joining HIG she worked with another AIMU member company in a similar role, after starting her career in underwriting analytics ten years ago. Courtney earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Actuarial Science from St. John's University, School of Risk Management, and holds the CPCU Designation as well as AIMU COMI. She spent the past four years on the board of AMIF, most recently as President. Courtney is thrilled to expand from learning and planning, to her first time as an AIMU panelist.

When able to pry herself away from insurance, Courtney's time is best spent with her dog Daisy, taking a run, or at the beach.

KAITY SANSONE

AVP - Senior Underwriter
Gen Re

Kaity Sansone is Senior Property and Ocean Marine Facultative Underwriter at Gen Re. She started her career with Gen Re eight years ago after graduating from Bowdoin College with majors in Psychology and Sociology. She is a member of the AIMU Pleasurecraft Committee and American Marine Insurance Forum. She was the Vice Chair for the 2019 Marine Insurance Issues Seminar and is the current Chair of the 2021 Marine Insurance Issues Seminar. Kaity enjoys running, going to Yankees games, and spending time at her family's camp in Maine.
